Selamat sore, Bapak Raditya.
Terima kasih telah menghubungi kami dan mohon maaf atas ketidaknyamanannya.
Biasanya memang kami kirimkan email untuk submission acknowledgment, Bapak, tetapi karena kami sedang migrasi sistem jadi kesalahan-kesalahan tersebut seringkali muncul. Kami sudah cek di sistem artikel Bapak telah tersubmit, nanti kami akan kirimkan submission acknowledgment manual via email ya Bapak dan mohon menunggu untuk proses

Introduction

In Southeast Asia, thalassemia is known to be the most common manifestation of hemoglobinopathy.^[1] Historically, this inherited blood disorder was frequently found in malarial enclaves, and it was assumed to confer a beneficial selective survival on thalassemia heterozygotes from the severe adverse effects of malaria. This natural selection have also placed Indonesia - Southeast Asia's second-largest malaria endemic area - into the thalassemia belt region. Until now, the magnitude of the thalassemia problem in Indonesia is still a public health concern, with the number of cases expected to continue increasing from time to time.^[2]

Indonesia has had a strategic plan to prevent thalassemia since 2010^[3] which primarily translated into various program activities such as health promotion, formal education, carrier screening, premarital counseling, and prenatal yth.,

1. Saya telah menambahkan Abstract dan Keywords
2. Abbreviations telah saya buat mendatar
3. Saya mengalami kesulitan memindahkan revised manuscript yang terakhir (9 April 2024) ke dalam template yang dikirimkan, yaitu : seringkali melompat dan berganti halaman, sehingga tampak ada bagian-bagian yang kosong
4. Kesulitan lain adalah ketika memindahkan table dan figure ke dalam template yang tersedia.
5. Sampai saat ini saya belum dapat menemukan solusi untuk masalah dalam butir 3 dan 4 di atas.

10.07

📶 93

< 140

Kesmas-Journal @Se...

6. Mohon maaf pagi ini sampai Minggu 19/5 saya ditugaskan ke Cirebon, sehingga kemungkinan sangat sulit untuk dapat merapihkan manuscript ke dalam template. Apakah kiranya ada pihak yang dapat membantu saya dalam masalah ini?

Mohon bantuannya dan terima kasih. 🙏

06.16 ✓✓

Perihal referensi, doi dan url sudah kami tanggapikan pada saat mengirimkan revisi manuscript tgl 9 April 2024 yang lalu, yaitu sebagai berikut:

1. Banyak studi tentang thalassemia dari perspektif non-klinis (yaitu, pengetahuan, sikap, persepsi) di Indonesia

10.07

📶 93

< 140

Kesmas-Journal @Se...

2. Karena studi ini sangat kontekstual untuk pengaturan negara dan lembaga pendidikan, publikasi dengan konteks lokal juga lebih disukai digunakan bahkan tanpa DOI atau URL.

3. Beberapa publikasi harus diambil lebih dari sepuluh tahun yang lalu ketika isu itu masih relevan, studi jarang, atau untuk melihat apakah ada perubahan / perbedaan dalam pola tertentu (yaitu, pengetahuan, sikap) di antara tahun / wilayah / lembaga.

Demikian penjelasan atau tanggapan dari saya. Mohon berkenan dan maklum adanya
Terima kasih 🙏

[Kesmas] Publication Fee Invoice

Jurnal Kesmas <jurnalkesmas.ui@gmail.com>
To: raditya@trisakti.ac.id

Tue, May 28, 2024 at 9:40 AM

Dear Authors,
Yth Penulis,

We hereby attach a bill for the publication fees of your article including the Article Processing Charge (APC) and proofreading fees. The proofreading fees represent our newest policy, which is the best option at a much lower cost for all authors.

Berikut kami lampirkan tagihan biaya pemrosesan artikel dan biaya proofreading menurut kebijakan terbaru Kesmas sebagaimana yang telah tercantum pada website kami.

In principle, authors are required to follow any policies that the journal implements as stated in the cover letter. Please cooperate to make the payment as stated on the invoice.

*Pada dasarnya penulis diwajibkan untuk mengikuti segala kebijakan Kesmas yang telah dicantumkan pada cover letter dan ditandatangani ketika mengunggah artikel. Mohon melakukan pembayaran sesuai nominal yang tertera ke masing-masing nomor rekening: biaya pemrosesan artikel (388,5 USD) ke nomor rekening atas nama Universitas Indonesia BHPP dan biaya proofreading (100 USD) ke nomor rekening atas nama LPPKM.

If you have already paid for each or both of the APC and proofreading fees, please reply to this message and attach proof of payment and your tax identification number. We look forward to receiving confirmation of your payment no later than May 30, 2024.

Mohon mengirimkan bukti transfer dan foto Nomor Pokok Wajib Pajak (NPWP) pada balasan surel ini untuk kami buat faktur pajaknya sesuai dengan peraturan Universitas Indonesia terbaru. Kami tunggu pembayarannya paling lambat 30 Mei 2024.

Thank you for your attention and cooperation.
Terima kasih atas perhatian dan kerja samanya.

The Influences of Medical Students' Consent to Participate in Thalassemia Research

Abstract:

An effective way of learning about thalassemia, a complex public health issue with multiple perspectives, is through participating in research. This study used an inductive approach to presume the influencing factors of students' consent to participate in thalassemia research voluntarily. Nested in the preliminary stage of a research series on thalassemia, this study used a consecutive sampling to recruit 140 medical undergraduates. Their knowledge, experience, and attitude to thalassemia and the perception of self-quality life were assessed using self-administered questionnaires. Blood samples were drawn for carrier screening. Students' GPAs were collected from faculty records...

Menstrual Personal Hygiene Behavior Among Adolescents with Physical and Intellectual Disabilities

Abstract:

Reproductive health for adolescents with disabilities is often disregarded, and education on personal hygiene is insufficient because some people perceive menstruation as a sensitive topic and have a false belief that adolescents with disabilities have no sexual desire. This study aimed to determine the overview of personal hygiene behavior among adolescents with physical and intellectual disabilities when facing menstruation. The method used was...

Prevention of HIV Transmission Among Men Who Have Sex with Men and Compliance with Sexual Protective Equipment

Abstract:

Sexual orientations, such as gay, lesbian, and bisexual, are prevalent among individuals at high risk of experiencing mental health problems, including drug use, depression, emotional distress, and suicide. Therefore, this study aimed to assess the compliance of men who have sex with men with protective equipment and determine the dominant influential factors. This cross-sectional study included 187 men who had sexual intercourse with men who were recruited from two foundations based in Palembang City, Indonesia, focusing on...

Exploring the Multifaceted Nature of Occupational Stress Among Nurses: A Systematic Review

Abstract:

This systematic review examined occupational stress among nurses, its multifaceted nature, and its significant impact on healthcare delivery and nurse wellbeing globally. This study identified various stressors, including intrinsic job factors, organizational structure, role expectations, interpersonal relationships, and career development. Using the Cooper and Marshall stress model, a thorough literature search was conducted across databases like ISI Web of Knowledge, PubMed, Scopus, Ovid Medline, and Google Scholar, focusing on publications from 2010 to 2023. This rigorous approach included...

Performance of Stunting Reduction Acceleration Team: An Explorative-Qualitative Study in Indonesia-Timor Leste Border Area

Abstract:

Stunting is a complex issue influenced by multiple factors, including specific factors within and outside the health sector. Achieving a significant reduction in stunting needs the involvement of relevant local government offices in the Stunting Reduction Acceleration Team (SRAT). This study aimed to investigate SRAT performance in a specific context of accelerating stunting reduction in Malaka District. This qualitative study, with a phenomenological approach, was conducted in...
